Conclusions

- Generally maintained pre-pandemic performance
- Areas for growth: ELA: Writing conventions and expression
Reading: Vocabulary
Math: Supporting Content
- Work with 5th grade (first standardized test)
- Large percentages of kids in “Approaching” (Level 3) category. Focus on individual student needs and appropriate rigor to ensure Level 4 or better
- Provide opportunities for students meeting expectations to go beyond

Next Steps

- Admin Team and coaching staff reviewed data
- Building data reviews and goal setting with Principals
- Principals doing data review with grade level teams and PLC teams
- Individual teachers reviewing class data and setting goals
- Teachers reviewing individual student scores
- Math coach targeting grade levels to inform teachers about question types, interpret standards, etc

What are the PARCC tests? The tests measure how well students have learned grade-level material in English language arts/literacy and mathematics. Students who meet or exceed expectations are on track for the next grade or course and, ultimately, for college and careers. The tests include questions that measure your child's fundamental skills and knowledge, and require students to think critically, solve problems, and support or explain their answers. The test is one of several ways to help parents and teachers understand how well children are learning.

How will my child's school use the test results? Results from the test give your child's teacher information about his/her academic performance. The results also give your school and school district important information to make improvements to the education program and to teaching.

What Do You Need to Know About the Score Reports

- The NJSLA tests replace the old state tests. They measure how well students are performing against the new state standards that guide Math and English Language Arts instruction.
- The NJSLA tests are only one of several measures, including report card grades and in-class performance, that are used to determine a student's academic achievement. They do not impact a student's GPA.
- The score reports are a valuable tool for parents and teachers. The report provides a deeper level of information that can be used to better understand where students are doing well and where they need additional support. This helps teachers and parents support students.
